Figure 6

Handwritten text in a script, likely Tamil, covering the entire page. The text is arranged in approximately 15 horizontal lines. There are several distinct phrases or sections, some of which are written in a larger, bolder script than the rest. Notable phrases include:

- Top right: செய்து கொடுத்தேன்
- Middle right: செய்து கொடுத்தேன்
- Bottom right: செய்து கொடுத்தேன்
- Bottom center: செய்து கொடுத்தேன்

The text is written in a cursive, flowing style, characteristic of traditional Tamil handwriting. The paper is aged and shows signs of wear, including small dark spots and a slightly uneven texture.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written on a single sheet of paper with two visible holes for binding. The script is dense and fills most of the page.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and is mostly illegible due to fading and the style of the script. There are two distinct sections of text separated by a horizontal line. The first section is on the left, and the second section is on the right. The script appears to be a form of early modern European cursive, possibly from the 16th or 17th century. The text is written in a single column on each side of the line. The paper shows signs of wear, including two small dark spots and some discoloration along the edges.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side. The script appears to be a historical form of a European language, possibly Dutch or German. There are several lines of text, with some words and phrases being more legible than others. The text is written in a single column, with some lines starting with capital letters. The paper shows signs of wear, including two dark circular holes and some staining.
